

Dear Friends,

Thanks for your prayers for Nigeria these past few weeks. Elections for State governors took place on April 14, with Presidential elections holding last weekend. The party presently holding power won an overwhelming majority both weekends. The election process and results have been condemned by almost everyone. Opposition parties are meeting to discuss what they plan to do by way of protest. We're thankful that so far the opposition and disgruntled voters have been careful and measured in their reactions. We're grateful for your continued prayers, and be assured that we're also praying for you.

In Christ,
