

Hi everyone,

I want to write an official prayer letter soon.

I just wanted to give you all this answer to prayer: we finally sold our house!

When I hear people asking for prayer for selling their house and things like that I've often thought – OK, but maybe there's more important things we can pray for. While this is true, I can't tell you how much a concrete, personal and important answer to prayer this was.

We sold our house, paid off our high interest mortgages and are back on track.

Thanks again for prayer!

Next week I'll be writing and then mailing you all a summercamp update. It has been an amazing summer with tons of new kids, new employees and new experiences. God is truly blessing at New City.

In Christ,

Trevor
